

BBC Interview

Article by:
Matthew Rogers
Marketing & Communications Officer @ ACH Bristol

In November 2016 we were pleased to be featured on BBC Points West, with a piece about our call for landlords.

The interview was filmed at one of our new properties in Bristol, where we were hosting a housewarming for the new tenants. Our CEO, Fuad Mahamed, showed round Dickon Hooper from BBC Points West and spoke about our need for more landlords to come forward and work with us to help us house the significant number of refugees on our waiting list. We are working with Bristol City Council and a number of prominent local landlords, but are looking to lease more houses on long term leases from private landlords.

If you are a landlord thinking about the social impact of your investment you can contact our property team on info@ashleyhousing.com / Tel: 0117 954 0433.
