

Investing in volunteers to teach basic English skills

Article by:

Hannah Wetz

Freelance Volunteer Coordinator, Awards for All @ Birmingham

We are building a team of volunteers to deliver English lessons free of charge to community members in Sandwell, West Midlands.

If you have, or know someone who has, good English skills, patience and some time to spare during the week, we would like to hear from you.

Come and experience the reward of building relationships with learners and seeing them progress, while improving your own skills and confidence.

To find out more about the project and how to get involved visit our Volunteering Opportunities page

3 days of training will be provided on 27th/28th February and 1st March 2017, plus ongoing support from ACH.

LOTTERY FUNDED