On 22nd March 2017 we were featured in an article on the 24housing website all about our work with refugees. 24housing's Mark Lawrence met tenants and staff to hear about the work we're doing to help refugees integrate into their local communities.

The interviews were filmed at our Bristol office and on location in one of our Bristol properties, and featured Rachel, our Support Team Leader, and some of our tenants. Rachel spoke with Mark about how we secure properties from landlords, and the importance of providing language and skills training not just accommodation for the refugees we work with. The piece also featured Bristol tenants Ahmed Fadul and Mariam Sayed, talking about how we have helped them.
