Apparently awards are like buses – they all come along at once! It’s been an exciting month for the marketing team as ACH have been announced as finalists in three prestigious awards.

Firstly, we’ve been shortlisted for the Positive Social Impact award in the Lloyds Bank National Business Awards. These awards celebrate the best of British ambition, recognising and rewarding excellence across all sectors in the UK. We were also a finalist for these in 2014 and 2015, so it’s great to see that they still feel we’re making a difference.

The Positive Social Impact Award celebrates the organisations bringing their values to life through a range of social impact initiatives. It recognizes those achieving social impact through partnership, investment, pro-bono work, or employee led initiatives.

We’ve also been shortlisted for Social Enterprise of the Year in the Ethical Corporation Annual Responsible Business. These awards celebrate the most innovative and forward-thinking practitioners from the world of sustainable and responsible business, and we’re pleased to be amongst them.

“The calibre of entries in this year’s Awards has been the highest we’ve seen. There’s some truly amazing initiatives and innovations across the globe that are driving new responsible ways of doing business,” said Liam Dowd, Managing Director at Ethical Corporation.

And finally, we’ve also been shortlisted for two categories in the 24housing Awards; Care & Support Provider of the Year, and Communications Team of the Year. The 24housing awards recognise outstanding organisations and individuals who have demonstrated their ability to thrive in the new housing landscape. They celebrate the very best that the housing sector has to offer, and whilst we do much more than just housing, we’re proud to be recognised by the sector for the work that we do.
